

SIBLYBACK WEEKLY FISHING REPORT
WEEK ENDING: 18 July 2019

Good morning. Here is this week's Catch Report from Siblyback Lake.

One brave sole heading down to that lake this week. Thank you for your return. With what sounds like a very successful day's fish with three fish caught and a nice sized rainbow in the mix.

With the weather set to improve over the next week becoming dry and sunny, but still with low air temperatures it is set to be a great fishing week.

But with less rain in the forecast and the water level set to drop further please be aware of the :

deep mud Warning

We are getting to that time of year again with water level still dropping despite the heavy rain. Where in a lot of place the mud is showing and is deep in places epically towards the nature reverse and in front of the woods, so do take care out there and please take note of any signs you come across.

Water level

Current Level: 48%
